INVESTMENT MARKET UNCERTAINTY

The political situation is very fluid at the moment, and has been for quite some time. This increases levels of uncertainty in the investment market.

Against the backdrop of highly volatile investment markets over the past 18 months, which is expected to continue, relatively lower investment returns are anticipated for some time.

Sentinel continues with its strategy of diversification across currencies, geographies and sectors to reduce risk where possible.

Members are reminded to exercise caution when considering investment options. In times like these it is important to focus on long-term investment objectives.

The Board of Trustees continually monitors the investment environment and will take appropriate action, where possible, to protect the savings of its members and pensioners.
